

SOL FOREST SCHOOL

Intern Position, Fall 2021

SOL Forest School, an award-winning, all-outdoor, all-weather, year-round program for young children ages 3-10 years based in the East Mountains just outside of Albuquerque, is seeking a Forest School Educator INTERN for the Fall Semester, 2021.

If you are passionate about connecting young children to nature, experiencing first-hand a Forest School (a quickly growing trend in early childhood education), and/or interested in one day working for or operating a forest school yourself, then this could be the opportunity for you!

We are a growing program and our 2021-2022 expansion plans include a unique K-3 forest school-home school program option, weekly sessions for children ages 7-10 years, the return of our Saturday Explorers program, as well as a few other potential offerings.

A small stipend will be awarded at the end of the 16-week INTERN experience. Please fill out the brief form to log your interest & check out our website for more information.

Minimum requirements to apply:

- 18 yrs+
- 6 hrs minimum commitment per week for 16 weeks
- Ability to work in an all-outdoor environment in ALL conditions and seasons
- Preference given to people with early childhood experience and/or a passionate interest in working with young children
- Selected candidate will be invited to attend a multi-day August FS training free of charge
